MEDIA RELEASE

July 13, 2011

Sub: Development with regard to court case between Tata Power and Government of India

This is with reference to the developments in the Supreme Court on July 13, 2011 in the case of Tata Power versus Union of India. It is to be stated that:

- Reliance Power's 8000 mw of power projects in Madhya Pradesh are on schedule.
- There is no stay or any interim order passed by the Honourable Supreme Court in this regard.
- The Delhi High Court had earlier dismissed the petition of Tata Power versus the Union of India based on suppression of facts, delay, and absence of locus standi.
- The Supreme Court has admitted the petition of Tata Power versus the Union of India and directed it to be listed for hearing in February 2012 in normal course.
- Reliance power is proceeding ahead with the implementation of its projects as per schedule.
